

MYER Mannequin Competition 2011

Congratulations to the Winners

1st Place

My inspiration for my art pieces was to stick to the whole natural theme and I got inspired by this from seeing all images from the internet. In the future I'm aiming to become a hair dresser and beautician. My strengths are doing beautician work and doing well in my sports. My achievements are being able to do a range of sports.

*Helena Storer
St. Monica's College, Cairns
Year 11*

2nd Place

The concept for my art work deals with the idea that as we grow up we begin to form our personalities, and it is this process which eventually defines who we are. The single wing symbolises the way that I am still building my personality and am still not completely able to become free from the expectations of society. The idea of broken wings represent that although I am longing to escape from the ties of expectation brought on me by society, I still have to find that one thing which will grant me this; what that is I must still find out for myself. As for the floral pattern, I find that the fragility of the paper and the pureness of the white, will show the delicate and intricate process which is needed to finally be able to form our true personality.

*Lara Damjanovic
St. Andrews Catholic College, Cairns - Year 11*

3rd Place

My mannequin was inspired by the way fire wraps itself around an object and the bright illuminating colours. I hope to get into work involving art and doing things with my hands. My favourite subjects are art and multi arts; I enjoy doing things such as drawing, constructing art and painting. Making the mannequin has been the best part of term3.

*Sarah Westerhout
St. Monica's College, Cairns
Year 11*

People's Choice

Initially, I am not sure of my idea for my mannequin at this point as I find my ideas are always changing and evolve as I go along. I would say that my major strengths and abilities lie in art and photography – more than anything that is what I have always been interested in. In the future I am hoping to pursue photography and that my love and passion for it will take me all over the world to many beautiful and exotic places. Two of my artistic highlights so far have been winning my category in the Cairns State High School "Wearable Art Parade" in August and having one of my mixed media pieces selected to enter the state-wide Creative Generation Competitions.

*Teva Cosic
Cairns State High School
Year 12*